Cforia helps us improve our clean receivable collections by driving out time spent on routine calls. This in turn allows us to spend more itme with disputes and deductions (dirty A/R) which require more direct interaction and collaboration with other groups like sales and operations, and of course the customer. The categorization of deductions by type is a huge win for us as it provides peak visibility and reporting on all "dirty" items. We used to spend a lot of time just organizing the A/R into clean and dirty from our ERP systems. Cforia's clean and dirty tracking finds and prioritizes them for us.
